University of Massachusetts at Boston
Commencement 1986

Saturday, May 31 at 1:00 pm
The University Mace
Symbols of authority and power, maces were originally hand weapons designed for use against armor. Topped by the flame of knowledge, the University Mace has the University Seal as a focal point and unifying element. Tassels of maroon and white hang from the shaft of fourteen rods of black walnut, symbolizing the fourteen counties of the Commonwealth, held together by a gold band, which symbolizes their unity.

The Head of the Mace is gold plate over highly polished brass. Complex curves radiating from the hub in which the Seal is centered reflect light in constantly changing patterns, symbolic of the many-faceted environment of the University life.

The Mace is borne by the chairperson of the Faculty Council.

Academic Costume and Regalia
Academic regalia represent traditions which come down from the Middle Ages, when European universities were institutions of the church. At that time, robes were a common form of dress, particularly for officials of church and state. The cut of the robe, its adornment, and the colors used comprised a specialized heraldry that conveyed the rank and station of the wearer. At the universities, both faculty and students were considered to be part of the church hierarchy and were expected to wear the prescribed gowns. As society moved toward more modern forms of dress, only royalty, clergy and academics retained the traditional regalia and then only reserving it for ceremonial use.

Modern academic regalia retain some of the symbols of the earlier forms of ceremonial dress. The gown tends to be fullest, longest, and heaviest for the doctoral degree. The sleeves for the bachelor's and master's gowns are typically open at the wrist. Cuffs are more common on the doctoral gown, and the sleeves are adorned by three velvet stripes, symbolic of the degree. The mantle worn about the shoulders, called the hood, is the remnant of functional headgear worn for warmth in the unheated classrooms of medieval universities. Today its colors refer to the school that granted the degree and the discipline or level of the degree (e.g., navy blue for Ph.D., pink for music, etc.).

The usual color for academic gowns in the United States is black. However, almost three dozen universities in this country and many others in Europe have adopted more colorful robes. In general, this practice has been limited to schools more than one hundred years old. Among the schools represented by colorful robes at commencement ceremonies are Boston College, Brown, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Duke, Harvard, New York, Princeton, Rutgers, Stanford, Tufts and Yale Universities, and the Universities of California, Kansas and Rhode Island.

This program is for ceremonial purposes. The official list of graduates is maintained by the University Registrar.

John J. Cullinane

As founder and Chairman of the Board of Cullinet Software, Inc., John J. Cullinane is a pioneer in the computer software products industry. He has built the largest mainframe software company in the world employing more than 2000 people, approximately fifty percent of them in Massachusetts. It is the first computer software company to be listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

The same talents and energies that built Cullinet Software have also been devoted to numerous cultural, civic and charitable activities. Mr. Cullinane is a member of the Board of Trustees of Northeastern University and has received the Outstanding Alumni Award for Business and Industry from that institution. In 1985 Mr. Cullinane was cited by Babson College as an outstanding business leader and was inducted into that institution’s Academy of Distinguished Entrepreneurs.

His professional associations include the Chairmanships of the Massachusetts Computer Software Council and the John F. Kennedy Library Foundation. He has also served as the Chairman of the K-12 Committee on Computer Literacy of the Massachusetts High Technology Council. Both John and his wife, Diddy, Co-Chaired the Harvard/Radcliffe Parents Fund, and the Ireland Fund dinner which raises funds for peace, culture, and charity in Ireland.

In 1985, John Cullinane and his wife, Diddy, were awarded the first Paul E. Tsongas Public Service Award. In the same year, the National Conference of Christians and Jews honored Mr. Cullinane for his philanthropic efforts.

Mr. Cullinane resides with his wife in Dedham, with their two children: John, Jr., a senior at Harvard University, and Suzanne, a student at Noble and Greenough.

Today the University honors John J. Cullinane for his achievements both in the world of business and industry and in the world of social causes and responsibility.

Anna Faith Jones

The Boston Foundation, one of the nation’s oldest and the fourth largest community foundation, responds to requests for assistance from a broad spectrum of non-profit charitable groups throughout Greater Boston. Since the first grant was awarded in 1917, the Foundation has given more than $1,000,000 to worthy institutions and programs. Throughout its distinguished history, the Boston Foundation, previously known as the Permanent Charity Fund, has championed the cause of human dignity.

No better evidence of the Foundation’s continued and vigorous commitment to such values exists than its choice in January of 1985 of Anna Faith Jones as its fourth Director. Her intimate knowledge of the community, her conviction that people thirst to be responsible for their own worth, and her passionate devotion to justice have led to her uncompromising adherence to the principle that intelligent change is possible.

Whether it be in addressing the needs of the homeless, in supporting efforts to achieve and maintain excellence in Boston’s public schools or in unmasking the myriad faces of poverty, Anna Faith Jones stands as a personal witness to the health and vitality of our community.

As the daughter of Mordecai Johnson, the first Black President of Howard University, Anna Faith Jones further distinguishes her service by being the first Black woman in the United States to head a major community foundation. Ms. Jones has served as a member and co-chairperson on a variety of boards representing youth, education, and civic organizations in Boston. She is currently a Trustee of the United Community Planning Corporation, a Board Member of the Massachusetts Housing Partnership, and Director of the Bank of New England.

In honoring her today, we speak through Anna Faith Jones to what is best in self respect and mutual respect. But beyond all, we celebrate the priceless value of one person, courageous, determined and committed.
Stanton L. Kurzman
Doctor of Humane Letters

Stanton L. Kurzman's tireless efforts on behalf of higher education are international in scope and range: he is a founder of Israel's Ben Gurion University and a former Trustee of the University of Massachusetts. President of Garden City Travel Services, Mr. Kurzman has long devoted his considerable energies to education, to religious and social charities, and, of course, to business. Countless citizens of the Commonwealth and the nation have had their lives improved through the efforts of Stanton Kurzman. Students of this University know little of the long hours Mr. Kurzman devoted to the Trustees' Budget and Finance Committee during his tenure as its Chair. The burn victims treated at the Shriners Burns Institute are not aware that Stanton Kurzman was instrumental in major fund raising during the early days of that facility. The indigent of greater Boston do not know that Stanton Kurzman has long been an active board member of Catholic Charities. The children who play at Dorchester's Colonel Daniel Marr Boys and Girls Club do not dwell on his many contributions as Director and significant fund raiser. And certainly no list of Stanton Kurzman's achievements would be complete without mentioning the tens of thousands of holiday and corporate travelers whose vacation and business travel plans have been executed by Garden City Travel Services.

Mr. Kurzman and his wife Andie live in Newton Centre and have four children: a daughter, Jamie, and three sons, Adam, David and Bryan.

To honor Stanton Kurzman is to recognize that commitment to education, dedication to ecumenical understanding, and success in private business can be had in the person of one man.

John Joseph Moakley
Doctor of Laws

Member of the United States House of Representatives for the Massachusetts Ninth Congressional District, in which the Harbor Campus of the University of Massachusetts at Boston lies, the Honorable John Joseph Moakley is a true champion of the less fortunate in our society.

Born in St. Augustine's parish in South Boston, and still a resident of "Southie," Congressman Moakley is, in the words of one of his colleagues, "a workhorse, not a showhorse." He joined the Navy in World War II at the age of fifteen, and served with distinction in the South Pacific. After the service, he attended the University of Miami before receiving his LL.B. degree from Suffolk University.

Always active in Democratic politics, Congressman Moakley was a member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives from 1953 to 1965, a member of the Massachusetts Senate from 1965 to 1969, and a Boston City Councilor in 1971. Elected to the U.S. House in 1972, he has been reelected ever since, occupying the seat of his mentor and role model, John W. McCormack, Speaker of the House from 1962 to 1970.

Recognizing the debt he personally and the Commonwealth in general owed to John McCormack, Congressman Moakley wrote the legislation and led the Massachusetts delegation in securing support for the John W. McCormack Institute of Public Affairs at UMass/Boston, which is dedicated to carrying forward the public service ideals of the late Speaker.

The second ranking member of the powerful House Rules Committee, Chair of the Subcommittee on Rules of the House, and Majority Deputy Whip, Congressman Moakley counts among his achievements legislation on employment of the handicapped, elderly housing, and labor and education issues. Congressman Moakley and his wife, Evelyn, live on Columbia Road, overlooking the beach in South Boston.

In honoring the Honorable John Joseph ("Joe") Moakley we pay our respects not only to one of our own but to all those public servants whose devotion to duty makes the political life in America an honorable one.
Henry Rosovsky
Doctor of Humane Letters

Henry Rosovsky is Lewis P. and Linda L. Geyser University Professor at Harvard University. Professor Rosovsky has influenced U.S. foreign bank and trade relations in his capacity both as consultant to the President's Commission on International Trade and Foreign Investment and to the Asian Development Bank, and as a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and the Trilateral Commission. Closer to home, as Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences at Harvard University during the years 1973 through 1984, Professor Rosovsky has influenced American education: Harvard College dramatically revised its undergraduate arts and science curriculum during Professor Rosovsky's tenure as Dean. The new curriculum has justly become a model for other colleges and universities. Professor Rosovsky came to the United States as a child; born in the Free City of Danzig, he emigrated with his family and settled in Connecticut. From his undergraduate days at the College of William and Mary through his years as a graduate student and faculty member at Harvard University up until today, his academic career has been distinguished by considerable achievements. He is a Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and a recipient of honors from numerous U.S. and international universities. He is author of three books on Japanese economics and edited three more; his articles have appeared in such journals as The American Scholar, The American Economic Review, and The Journal of Economic History. Professor Rosovsky's success in his adopted country stands as an inspiration to many undergraduates here at the University of Massachusetts at Boston who likewise came to the United States from foreign shores. He and his wife Nitza have three children: Leah, a graduate of Harvard Business School, Judith, a graduate student at UMass/Boston and Michael, a student at Duke University.

In honoring Henry Rosovsky today we pay heed to his example and his intellect, and in the words of Emerson we acknowledge the "office of scholar" which in the person of Henry Rosovsky has cheered and raised and guided us all.
