The University Mace
Symbols of authority and power, maces were originally hand weapons designed for use against armor. Topped by the flame of knowledge, the University Mace has the University Seal as a focal point and unifying element. Tassels of maroon and white hang from the shaft of fourteen rods of black walnut, symbolizing the fourteen counties of the Commonwealth, held together by a gold band, which symbolizes their unity.

The Head of the Mace is gold plate over highly polished brass. Complex curves radiating from the hub in which the Seal is centered reflect light in constantly changing patterns, symbolic of the many-faceted environment of the University life.

The Mace is borne by the chairperson of the Faculty Council.

Academic Costume and Regalia
Academic regalia represent traditions which come down from the Middle ages, when European universities were institutions of the church. At that time, robes were a common form of dress, particularly for officials of church and state. The cut of the robe, its adornment, and the colors used comprised a specialized heraldry that conveyed the rank and station of the wearer. At the universities, both faculty and students were considered to be part of the church hierarchy and were expected to wear the prescribed gowns. As society moved toward more modern forms of dress, only royalty, clergy, judges, and academics retained the traditional regalia and then only reserving it for ceremonial use.

Modern academic regalia retain some of the symbols of the earlier forms of ceremonial dress. The gown tends to be fullest, longest, and heaviest for the doctoral degree. The sleeves for the bachelor’s and master’s gowns are typically open at the wrist. Cuffs are more common on the doctoral gown, and the sleeves are adorned by three velvet stripes, symbolic of the degree. The mantle worn about the shoulders, called the hood, is the remnant of functional headgear worn for warmth in the unheated classrooms of medieval universities. Today its colors refer to the school that granted the degree and the discipline or level of the degree (e.g., navy blue for Ph.D., pink for music, etc.).

The usual color for academic gowns in the United States is black. However, almost three dozen universities in this country and many others throughout the world have adopted more colorful robes. In general, this practice has been limited to schools more than one hundred years old. Among the schools represented by colorful robes at commencement ceremonies are Boston College, Brown, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Duke, Harvard, New York, Oxford, Princeton, Rutgers, Stanford, Tufts and Yale Universities, and the Universities of California, Kansas and Rhode Island.

This program is for ceremonial purposes. The official list of graduates is maintained by the University Registrar.

A native of Brooklyn, New York, Shirley Chisholm was the senior Democratic woman in the United States House of Representatives when she retired in 1982. She was the only woman and the only black American to sit on the powerful House Rules Committee, and she was a leading member of the Congressional Black Caucus.

Shirley Chisholm entered the 91st Congress as a freshman in 1969 and established herself as a force to be reckoned with. Assigned to the Agriculture Subcommittee on Forestry and Rural Villages, a subcommittee having little relevance to her predominantly minority, urban district, she made her displeasure known and prevailed, being granted a seat on the Veterans' Affairs Committee. In 1971, Congresswoman Chisholm won a spot on the House Education and Labor Committee, which had jurisdiction over her main fields of concentration and interest. She served with distinction on that committee for six years before moving to Rules.

In 1972, Shirley Chisholm made history by campaigning seriously for the Democratic party nomination for President. She was the first black woman ever to seek the nation's highest office. Although she was not successful, her name, her ideas, and her commitment were brought to the attention of the American public.

Since her retirement from Congress, Ms. Chisholm has earned further praise for her efforts on behalf of black colleges, compensatory education, a minimum wage for domestics, native Americans, Haitian refugees, migrant farmworkers, and the poor. By writing, teaching, and traveling throughout America, Ms. Chisholm hopes to create a new national state of mind that demands peace, prosperity, and equality for all Americans.

Shirley Chisholm is the author of an autobiography, Unbought and Unbossed (1970), and The Good Fight (1972), an account of her quest for the Presidency. She is a cum laude graduate of Brooklyn College and has a Master of Arts degree from Columbia University. She has received many honorary degrees and recognitions and is currently a member of the faculty of Mount Holyoke College, the oldest women's college in the United States. She has been married since 1977 to Arthur Hardwick, Jr.

In bestowing the degree of Doctor of Laws* on the Honorable Shirley Chisholm, the University of Massachusetts at Boston acknowledges a distinguished American, who has championed the cause of equality in every significant forum in our nation.

* The degree was conferred at the University of Massachusetts at Boston Gerontology Program Graduation Ceremony on May 27, 1987, at the John F. Kennedy Library.
A native of Boston, A. Bartlett Giamatti has gone forth from his native city to achievements in wider worlds of endeavor, including the dual pinnacles of academic life and organized sports. He assumed the presidency of the National League of Professional Baseball Clubs in December 1986. He had retired from the presidency of Yale University in June 1986 after serving eight years in that post.

A respected scholar in the field of Renaissance literature and the son of a professor of Italian, Dr. Giamatti received his doctorate in comparative literature from Yale University in 1964. He taught Italian and comparative literature at Princeton University from 1964 to 1966. He became a member of the Yale English Department in 1966, attaining the rank of full professor in 1971. From 1975 to 1978 he served as director of the Division of Humanities at Yale.

Dr. Giamatti was the recipient of a Guggenheim fellowship for 1969-70. He is a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Sciences, and a member of the American Philosophical Society. The recipient of numerous awards and honorary degrees, Dr. Giamatti has served as a member of the National Council on the Humanities, the Rockefeller Foundation Commission on the Humanities, and the National Commission on Excellence in Education. Dr. Giamatti is a trustee of the Ford Foundation, and of Mount Holyoke College. He is a director of the Urban League of Greater New Haven.

Dr. Giamatti, who lives in Hamden, Connecticut, married Toni Smith of Plainfield, New Jersey, in 1960, and they have two sons and a daughter.

To honor A. Bartlett Giamatti is to recognize the achievements of a true Renaissance man, at home in the classics of literature, the management of a large educational institution, and the leadership of a venerable public association. Today we recognize in him the part that vitality, intelligence, and public spirit can play in our nation.
A native of New Jersey, Edward E. Phillips has been chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company since November 1978. He first joined New England Life in 1969, was elected a director in 1973, and served as president from 1974 to 1981.

Mr. Phillips graduated from Carteret Academy, served in the United States Marine Corps, graduated from Amherst College in 1952 (cum laude), and graduated from Harvard Law School in 1955. He is a member of the Board of Trustees of Amherst College.

He has been chairman of the American Council of Life Insurance, a public affairs fellow of the Brookings Institution, a trustee of the Educational Testing Service, a director of the Massachusetts Governor's Management Task Force, a member of the Massachusetts State Board of Education, chairman of the Massachusetts Taxpayers Association, a governor of the National Association of Securities Dealers, a director of the New England Telephone Company, and chairman of the United Way of Massachusetts.

He is currently a member of the Board of Overseers of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, a trustee of the Boston Plan for Excellence in the Public Schools, a trustee of the Committee for Economic Development, chairman of the Greater Boston Arts Fund, a director and past chairman of the Life Insurance Association of Massachusetts, chairman of the Massachusetts Business Roundtable, a member of the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities, a trustee of the New England Conservatory, a director of NYNEX, and a director of United Way of America.

Mr. Phillips is chairman of the Action Center for Educational Services and Scholarships (ACCESS), a cooperative program of the Greater Boston business and academic communities that provides a financial counseling and tuition assistance program to help ensure that graduates of the Boston Public Schools are not denied a higher education because of financial circumstances.

Mr. Phillips is married to the former Margaret Whitney, and they have three children.

Today the University of Massachusetts at Boston honors Edward E. Phillips, a distinguished citizen who has contributed to this community both through his success as a leader in business and through his unparalleled commitment to access and excellence in education for all of Boston's youths.
