The University Mace

Symbols of authority and power, maces were originally hand weapons designed for use against armor. Topped by the flame of knowledge, the University Mace has the University Seal as a focal point and unifying element. Tassels of maroon and white hang from the shaft of fourteen rods of black walnut, symbolizing the fourteen counties of the Commonwealth.

The head of the mace is gold plate over highly polished brass. Complex curves radiating from the hub in which the seal is centered reflect light in constantly changing patterns, symbolic of the many-faceted environment of the university life.

The mace is borne by the chairperson of the Faculty Council.

Academic Costume and Regalia

Academic regalia represent traditions which come down from the Middle Ages, when European universities were institutions of the church. At that time, robes were a common form of dress, particularly for officials of church and state. The cut of the robe, its adornment, and the colors used comprised a specialized heraldry that conveyed the rank and station of the wearer. At the universities, both faculty and students were considered to be part of the church hierarchy and were expected to wear the prescribed gowns. As society moved toward more modern forms of dress, only royalty, clergy, judges, and academics retained the traditional regalia, reserving it only for ceremonial use.

Modern academic regalia retain some of the symbols of the earlier forms of ceremonial dress. The gown tends to be fullest, longest, and heaviest for the doctoral degree. The sleeves for the bachelor's and master's gowns are typically open at the wrist. Cuffs are more common on the doctoral gown, and its sleeves are adorned by three velvet strips, symbolic of the degree. The mantle worn about the shoulders, called the hood, is the remnant of functional headgear worn for warmth in the unheated classrooms of medieval universities. Today its colors refer to the school that granted the degree and the level or discipline of the degree (e.g., navy blue for Ph.D., pink for music).

The usual color for academic gowns in the United States is black. However, almost three dozen universities in this country and many others throughout the world have adopted more colorful robes. In general, this practice has been limited to schools more than one hundred years old. Among the schools represented by colorful robes at commencement ceremonies are Boston College, Brown, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Duke, Harvard, New York, Oxford, Princeton, Rutgers, Stanford, Tufts, and Yale Universities, and the Universities of California, Kansas, and Rhode Island.

Please note: The audience is asked to remain seated throughout this ceremony. At the end of the ceremony, those attending the diploma-presentation ceremony for College of Arts and Sciences graduates should continue to remain seated. Those attending individual college ceremonies at other locations will be invited to rise and leave college by college. The locations for these ceremonies are: College of Education and Physical Education Program, McCormack Hall Gymnasium; College of Management, Clark Center Gymnasium (rain location: Clark Center Rink); College of Nursing, Ryan Lounge, McCormack Hall; College of Public and Community Service, Lipke Auditorium, Science Center, McCormack Institute, Faculty Club, Healey Library.

Music at this ceremony is provided by the Quintessential Brass. The flags of various nations displayed along the campus entrance road are a gift of the class of 1987.

This program is for ceremonial purposes. The official list of graduates is maintained by the university registrar.

Recessional
Joan T. Bok was born in Grand Rapids, Michigan, and educated at Radcliffe College and Harvard Law School. In 1968, after practicing law for several years—first with the Boston firm of Ropes & Gray, then privately—she joined the New England Electric System as an attorney. She served as assistant to the president (1973-77), vice president (1977-79), and vice chairman (1979-84). She was named a director of New England Electric in 1979, and chairman in 1984; she continues to hold these positions. She is the first woman to chair a leading public utility in the United States.

Her involvement in civic causes is extensive. She is a member of the American Bar Association, the Boston Bar Association, and the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, a corporation member of Massachusetts General Hospital and M.I.T., a councilor of the American Antiquarian Society, a former trustee of Radcliffe College, a trustee of the Boston Athenæum, the Committee for Economic Development, and the MGH Institute of Health Professions, and a former president of the board of overseers of Harvard College.

She also serves as a director of the Dennison Manufacturing Company, the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, the Monsanto Company, and the Norton Company. Among her honors is selection as a fellow of the American Bar Foundation.

In honoring Joan T. Bok, we salute an extraordinary career in business and numerous contributions to the public good. We also recognize the critical role of women as leaders in the economic life of our nation.

Henry Hampton is a native of St. Louis and a graduate of Washington University. From 1963 to 1968, Mr. Hampton was director of broadcasting and information for the Unitarian Universalist Association. In 1968, he founded Blackside, Inc., a film and television production company; he has been president of the company since that time. His principal responsibilities at Blackside are marketing, film and television concept development, and corporate management.

Mr. Hampton served as executive producer of Eyes on the Prize, a two-part PBS series on the American civil rights movement, which has been one of the most admired television programs of our time. The first part of Eyes on the Prize (1987) won the DuPont-Columbia and Peabody awards for excellence in broadcast journalism, as well as two Emmys and an Academy Award nomination. The second part (1990) is receiving similar acclaim.

Mr. Hampton has also been executive producer of Voices of a Divided City (PBS, 1983) and executive producer and writer for Kinfolks, winner of a CEBA Award as the best long-form documentary on minority Americans in 1979. All told, he has had major responsibility for more than 50 substantial films and media projects. His honors include a Loeb Fellowship from the Harvard University School of Design, the Roger Baldwin Award of the Massachusetts Civil Liberties Union, and the Holmes-Weatherly Award of the Unitarian Universalist Association.

We honor Henry Hampton for his commitment to social justice, his journalistic and artistic integrity, and his exceptional sense of the nature and value of historical inquiry.
Elsie Frank
Doctor of Laws

Elsie Frank graduated from Bayonne High School in Bayonne, New Jersey. At the age of 55, after raising four children, she put aside a 30-year involvement in community activity and returned to the work force as a legal secretary in New York City. Five years later she moved to Boston, where she continued her professional career in one of the city's prominent law firms. Just a few months short of 70, she retired to devote her time to a hard-fought election campaign for her son, Barney. Her activist life in Massachusetts has continued to this day.

Ms. Frank currently serves as president of the Massachusetts Association of Older Americans and as vice president of the Advisory Council to the Commission on Affairs of the Elderly of the City of Boston. She is also a member of the Citizens Advisory Committee to the Massachusetts Executive Office of Elder Affairs, and serves on the boards of directors of Central Boston Elder Services, Inc., the Massachusetts Council of Homemakers/Home Health Aides, the Urban Medical Group, Operation ABLE, the Elderly Task Force of the Jewish Community Relations Council, and Back Bay Aging Concerns- YOU. Her support for programs affecting seniors extends across the Commonwealth to scores of organizations engaged in promoting the health and welfare of the aging.

In honoring Elsie Frank, we recognize a lifetime of engagement in public concerns and the culmination of that work in highly effective advocacy for older Americans.

(Ms. Frank's degree was conferred at Gerontology Center graduation ceremonies on May 30 at the John F. Kennedy Library.)

Arthur Osborn
Doctor of Laws

Arthur Osborn, a native of Waltham, Massachusetts, served in the U.S. Navy during the Korean War. He then joined the workforce and became deeply involved in union activity, first as a shop steward for Local 1505 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, then as Local 1505 president—a position in which he represented over 10,000 employees of the Raytheon Company. He was elected vice president of the Massachusetts AFL-CIO in 1971, and executive vice president in 1977. He served as well as education director, building a college scholarship program that now awards $157,000 in scholarships per year. In 1979 he was elected president of the Massachusetts AFL-CIO; in 1987 he was reelected without opposition to a third term.

Mr. Osborn has served as chair and vice chair of the Massachusetts Workers Compensation Advisory Board, as a member of the Governor's Commission on the Employment of the Handicapped, on the boards of directors of the Massachusetts Higher Education Finance Assistance Corporation and the Massachusetts Convention Center Bureau, as a member of the Massachusetts Water Resources Citizens Advisory Board, as chair of the Committee for the Quality of Life/Vote No on #2 Campaign, and as chair of the Statewide Public Employees Coalition.

We honor Arthur Osborn for his extraordinary contributions to the cause of organized labor and for his compassionate and productive concern for the well-being of working men and women throughout our Commonwealth.
Robert Redford
Doctor of Science

Robert Redford, a native of Santa Monica, California, studied at the University of Colorado, Pratt Institute, and the American Academy of Dramatic Arts. Among the many films in which he has starred during his distinguished acting career are Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid, The Candidate, The Sting, All the President's Men, The Natural, and Out of Africa. He has also directed Ordinary People, for which he won an Academy Award, and The Milagro Beanfield War.

Although Mr. Redford is known chiefly as an actor and director, he has a long history of involvement in environmental issues, dating back to the early 1970's. He is a long-standing board member of the Environmental Defense Fund and the Natural Resources Defense Council, and has worked actively for such legislation as the Clean Air Act, the Energy Conservation and Production Act, bills regulating strip mining, and the National Energy Policy Act.

He is also founder and president of the Institute for Resource Management (IRM), which has sponsored a series of conferences that have brought opposing groups together for productive discussion of environmental issues ranging from resource development on Indian lands to urban air quality. In 1989, IRM and the Soviet Academy of Sciences cosponsored a conference at which scientists, policymakers, industry leaders, and artists gathered to consider global warming and to explore ways to inform the public about this critical issue.

We honor Robert Redford for his fine work in films, for the substantial contributions he has made toward preserving our environment, and for the splendid example of world citizenship he sets.

Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr.
Doctor of Humane Letters

Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., born in Columbus, Ohio, studied as an undergraduate at Harvard University and held postgraduate fellowships at Cambridge University and at Harvard before serving during World War II in the Offices of War Information and Strategic Services. After the war, he joined the Harvard History Department, resuming his work as a historian and his involvement in public concerns.

Between 1945 and 1960 he published, among other works, The Age of Jackson (1945) and the three volumes of The Age of Roosevelt (1957-1960). His political activities included staff work for the presidential campaigns of Adlai Stevenson and the national chairmanship of Americans for Democratic Action. He worked as well for the election of John F. Kennedy, and in 1961 he left Harvard to become a special assistant to the President, a position he held until 1964.

In honoring Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., we honor a life in which intellectual achievement and public service—both of the highest order—are inseparably intertwined.
Donald Woods was born in 1933 at Hobeni, Elliotdale, in the Transkei Territory of South Africa; he was educated in South Africa at De La Salle College, South Africa Christian Brothers College, and the University of Cape Town Law School. He began his career in journalism in 1957 as a reporter for the Daily Dispatch of East London, South Africa. After working from 1958 to 1960 on newspapers in Britain and Canada, he returned to the Daily Dispatch, becoming editor-in-chief in 1965.

During the 1960's and 1970's his opposition to the apartheid policies of the South African government grew increasingly intense. Among his associates and friends was Steve Biko, leader of the anti-apartheid Black Consciousness Movement. In 1977, after Mr. Biko was killed while in the custody of the South African police, Mr. Woods published information about Mr. Biko's death and was arrested and served with restriction orders; he escaped with his family into exile in Britain in 1978. The story of these events is told in the 1987 film Cry Freedom.

We honor Donald Woods both for his clear-sighted, profound, and effective opposition to inhumane repression and for his powerful vision of a just, decent, and fruitful society.
