University of Massachusetts Boston Commencement 1994

Saturday, June 4 at 11:00 am
The University Mace

Symbols of authority and power, maces were originally hand weapons designed for use against armor. Topped by the flame of knowledge, the University mace has the University seal as a focal point and unifying element. Tassels of maroon and white hang from the shaft of fourteen rods of black walnut, symbolizing the fourteen counties of the Commonwealth.

The head of the mace is gold plate over highly polished brass. Complex curves radiating from the hub in which the seal is centered reflect light in constantly changing patterns, symbolic of the many-faceted environment of the university life.

Academic Costume and Regalia

Academic regalia represent traditions which come down from the Middle Ages, when European universities were institutions of the church. At that time, robes were a common form of dress, particularly for officials of church and state. The cut of the robe, its adornment, and the colors used comprised a specialized heraldry that conveyed the rank and station of the wearer. At the universities, both faculty and students were considered to be part of the church hierarchy and were expected to wear the prescribed gowns. As society moved toward more modern forms of dress, only royalty, clergy, judges, and academics retained the traditional regalia, reserving it only for ceremonial use.

Modern academic regalia retain some of the symbols of the earlier forms of ceremonial dress. The gown tends to be fullest, longest, and heaviest for the doctoral degree. The sleeves for the bachelor’s and master’s gowns are typically open at the wrist. Cuffs are more common on the doctoral gown, and its sleeves are adorned by three velvet strips, symbolic of the degree. The mantle worn about the shoulders, called the hood, is the remnant of functional headgear worn for warmth in the unheated classrooms of medieval universities. Today its colors refer to the school that granted the degree and the level or discipline of the degree (e.g., navy blue for Ph.D., pink for music).

The usual color for academic gowns in the United States is black. However, almost three dozen universities in this country and many others throughout the world have adopted more colorful robes. In general, this practice has been limited to schools more than one hundred years old. Among the schools represented by colorful robes at commencement ceremonies are Boston College, Brown, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Duke, Harvard, New York, Oxford, Princeton, Rutgers, Stanford, Tufts, and Yale Universities, and the Universities of California, Kansas, and Rhode Island.

Please note:
The audience is asked to remain seated throughout this ceremony. At the end of the ceremony, those attending the diploma-presentation ceremony for College of Arts and Sciences graduates should continue to remain seated. Those attending individual college ceremonies at other locations will be invited to rise and leave college by college. The locations for these ceremonies are: College of Management, Clark Center Gymnasium; College of Nursing (including the Program in Human Performance and Fitness), Clark Center Rink; College of Public and Community Service, Lipke Auditorium, Science Center; Graduate College of Education, Ryan Lounge, McCormack Hall; McCormack Institute; University Club, Healey Library.

Music at this ceremony is provided by the Quintessential Brass Quintet. The flags of various nations displayed along the campus entrance road are a gift of the class of 1987.

This program is for ceremonial purposes. The official list of graduates is maintained by the university registrar.

Recessional
Thomas M. Menino
Chancellor’s Medal for Distinguished Service

Thomas M. Menino was born and raised and still resides in Boston’s Hyde Park section. A UMass Boston alumnus, he received his B.A. in community planning from the University’s College of Public and Community Service (CPCS) in 1988. He also holds a certificate from the government executive’s program at Harvard University’s John F. Kennedy School of Government.

Mr. Menino was elected mayor of Boston last November. Earlier in 1993, he had been elected Boston City Council president, after representing the Hyde Park and Roslindale neighborhoods on the Council for nine years, and had become the city’s acting mayor when Mayor Raymond Flynn left his post to become U.S. ambassador to the Vatican.

As mayor, Mr. Menino has made public safety, youth services, education, and jobs the top priorities of his administration. As a city councillor, he characteristically gave particular attention to championing small businesses and reconciling concerns downtown with those of his home district. He served on a number of council committees, including Ways and Means, Government and Finance, and City and Neighborhood Services.

Mr. Menino was recently reappointed to a second term on the board of directors of the National League of Cities; he has been an active NLC member since 1985. Since 1989, he has served as regional chairman of the National Trust for Historic Preservation.

We honor Thomas M. Menino for a career in politics marked and guided by an extraordinary union of common sense, pragmatism, persistence, deep sensitivity to human needs, and devotion to the highest ideals of public service.

Jack Beatty
Doctor of Humane Letters

Jack Beatty, senior editor of The Atlantic Monthly, was born and raised in Dorchester and attended Boston Latin School, Boston State College, and the University of Massachusetts Boston.

Mr. Beatty is the author of The Rascal King: The Life and Times of James Michael Curley, published in 1992. This acclaimed biography was nominated for the National Book Critics Circle Award and received both an American Book Award, given by the Before Columbus Society, and the L. L. Winship Award, given annually to a New England writer by The Boston Globe.

Mr. Beatty is recognized as a superb editor and as a writer of intellectual breadth, driving curiosity, passion, and wit. He has achieved remarkable literary success at a comparatively young age, after rising from a working class background under economic pressures that forced him to leave college early and hold other jobs while producing his first articles and reviews.

In honoring Jack Beatty, we pay tribute to a man whose gift for the written word and zeal for scholarship offer us a singularly lucid view of our past, present, and future.
Michael Haynes

Doctor of Humane Letters

The Reverend Michael E. Haynes was born and raised in the Roxbury section of Boston. He is a graduate of the New England School of Theology (now Berkshire Christian College) and Shelton College, and has pursued graduate studies at Gordon College, Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary, and the Boston University School of Social Work. He has been awarded honorary doctorates by Barrington College, Gordon College, Northeastern University, and Salem State College.

After a dual career in social work and church work, he served three terms as a member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives and was a member of the state’s parole board for sixteen years.

He has served on some forty social welfare, recreational, criminal justice, government, educational and religious boards, and has also acted as an advisor to four governors, two mayors, two United States senators, and one president. Currently, he serves on the Boston Fair Housing Commission.

Michael Haynes became senior minister of Roxbury’s Twelfth Baptist Church in 1964, and over the years has demonstrated an exceptional commitment to helping young men and women achieve an education and a better life. Under his guidance countless youngsters from Roxbury’s neighborhoods have developed their abilities and expanded their horizons. Those he has helped along the way are today surgeons, presidents of school boards, journalists, ministers, policeman, lawyers, political aides, FBI agents, former UN officials, bankers, and high school principals.

We honor Michael E. Haynes for his profound commitment to nurturing economically disadvantaged young men and women and preparing them to surmount the barriers to success.

Philip Morrison

Doctor of Science

Philip Morrison was born in Somerville, New Jersey. He received a B.S. in physics from Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh in 1936, and a Ph.D. in theoretical physics from the University of California, Berkeley, in 1940.

Since 1965 he has been on the faculty at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he is now Institute Professor Emeritus. His distinguished academic and professional career has included faculty appointments at San Francisco State College (1940-41), the University of Illinois (1941-42), and Cornell University (1946-65). Between 1942 and 1946 he worked on the Manhattan Project, participating in the development of the atomic bomb. His areas of expertise include the investigation and analysis of the principles of astrophysics and nuclear physics, and their general relationship to astrophysical and physical systems.

Philip Morrison has published numerous scholarly articles and books. He has been since 1965 the book review editor of the Scientific American Monthly. He has also produced a significant body of work for the non-scientist reader, and has been a leader in bringing the insights of science to the general public. We at UMass Boston particularly appreciate his extensive and helpful participation in the discussions of the objectives and design of our own science curriculum.

Among his many honors and awards are the Babson Prize of the Gravity Research Foundation; the Oersted Medal of the American Association of Physics Teachers; the Pregel Prize of the New York Academy of Science; and the AAAS-Westinghouse Public Understanding of Science Award. He was the author and presenter of a six-part PBS national television series, The Ring of Truth.

In honoring Philip Morrison, we pay tribute to a man whose professional life has combined a passion for science with a commitment to teaching and the conviction that a public understanding of science is a crucial aspect of the public good.
Lloyd G. Richards
Doctor of Humane Letters

Lloyd Richards, born in Toronto, moved with his family to Detroit when very young. He received a B.A. degree in theater arts from Wayne State University in 1944. After service with the Army Air Force, he worked in radio in Detroit before moving in 1948 to New York City, where he worked in theater and radio drama, taught acting, and directed plays for television and theater. In 1959 he became the first African-American to direct a Broadway play, Lorraine Hansberry’s acclaimed Raisin in the Sun, the first Broadway play written by an African-American woman.

An early participant in the regional theater movement, Mr. Richards has been for more than 25 years the artistic director of the National Playwrights Conference of the Eugene O’Neill Theater Center, one of the first and most important organizations devoted to discovering new voices for the American theater.

From 1979 to 1991, Mr. Richards served as dean of the Yale University School of Drama and artistic director of the Yale Repertory Theater, where he staged American and world premieres of plays by noted South African playwright Athol Fugard. He also directed plays by Shaw, O’Neill, Ibsen, Chekhov, and Shakespeare. And he discovered, helped develop, and presented the plays of August Wilson, whose work has won two Pulitzer Prizes.

Mr. Richards served as a member of the National Council on the Arts from 1985 to 1991. In 1993 President Clinton presented him with the National Medal of Arts.

In honoring Lloyd Richards, we pay tribute to a man whose vision of the theater connects art to our daily lives as a force that offers us both challenge and insight into what we are and what we do.

Eunice Kennedy Shriver
Doctor of Humane Letters

Eunice Kennedy Shriver, executive vice president of the Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr., Foundation and founder and honorary chairman of Special Olympics International, was born in Brookline and received a BS degree in 1943 from Stanford University.

Mrs. Shriver has for five decades worked to improve and enhance the lives of disadvantaged persons. After World War II, she worked for the U.S. State Department helping released American prisoners of war become acclimated to civilian life, and later worked in the field of juvenile delinquency.

Mrs. Shriver is best known for her work on behalf of individuals with mental retardation. Her efforts, and the support she has enlisted from civic groups and teachers, have been particularly effective in improving the national attitude toward mentally retarded children.

Under her dynamic leadership, the Kennedy Foundation has helped achieve many significant advances, including the establishment of the President’s Committee on Mental Retardation in 1961, the formation of the National Institute for Child Health and Human Development in 1962, the establishment of the Special Olympics in 1968, the creation of major centers for the study of medical ethics at Harvard and Georgetown universities, and the creation of the “Community of Caring” concept. In 1984, she received the Presidential Medal of Freedom for her work on behalf of persons with mental retardation. She was given the Jefferson Award in 1992 in the category of Greatest Public Service Benefitting the Disadvantaged.

We honor Eunice Kennedy Shriver for her lifelong dedication to improving the lives of people with disabilities, and for underscoring our society’s fundamental responsibility to extend opportunity to all of its members.
